

What Is Your "Behind the Scenes" Story?

What our friends said about last year's retreat:

- ♦ "I didn't know anyone when I came, but they were all so friendly and kind. I made new friends."
- ♦ "It was a 'safe' environment to genuinely 'share' our journey with others who understood and could relate in a non-judgment zone."
- ♦ "At first I didn't want to go, but I'm SOOO glad I did. I made new friends who are on this grief journey that understood the uniqueness of grieving in a fishbowl. Each session was good, and the impromptu "table talks" were my favorite. It was like a rollercoaster ride from sadness to hilarious laughter."
- ♦ "Making new friends & reconnecting with others made the retreat fun!"
- ♦ "The Word of the Lord touched my heart."
- ♦ "A wonderful time filled with great memories."
- ♦ "I've never been to a retreat before and I Loved It!"
- ♦ "I don't know how to explain it, but I feel like a different person since coming home. Reasons? Being with friends, old and new; Getting away from home for the first time in a while; Being encouraged through those sharing & Not having to cook for one."

We look forward to YOU being in this year's photo!

Several years ago my husband and I, along with our oldest son, Chris, traveled as Children's Evangelists. For eight years, we learned what it truly meant to 'Live by Faith'.

Each week, we ministered at a different church. While my husband spent his days with the pastor doing pastoral things, my days were spent caring for our son in the pastor's home. Chris was fourteen months old when we started traveling.

We never knew, from week to week, what our income would be because we never asked for a set amount. We were thrilled to be serving God and following His call upon our lives. During our first year, our total income was $6,000! We never thought anything about that until we were told we didn't qualify for a 1% FHA loan. It was then I realized how 'poor' we were.

One of the hardest things was having no friends. It's hard to have true friends when you are in a town for only a week. I'll never forget how God ministered to me early one afternoon. We were ministering in Nicholson, PA. I can still see the parsonage and the exact spot where God spoke to me.

I was sitting at a small desk located in the living room in front of the window. As I sat there, talking with God about things that I didn't understand, He spoke to me.

He said, "Cindy, I am working behind the scenes. Each night you and Robin work behind the puppet stage to bring my Word in a way that is fun and easy to understand. The congregation hasn't a clue what is going on behind the stage, making it possible for them to enjoy the service. Cindy, you can always trust Me because I am always working "Behind the Scenes." I will never forget that moment!

We have chosen "Behind The Scenes" as our theme for this year's New Horizons MTC Retreat. In this newsletter, you will read stories from our team of their personal "Behind the Scenes" encounters. I'm sure you, too, have had your own "Behind the Scenes" encounter with the Father. We look forward to hearing your story at this year's retreat.

My "Behind the Scenes" Story ~ Celeste Falvo

Celeste Falvo writes: "We don't yet see things clearly. We're squinting in a fog, peering through a mist. But it won't be long before the weather clears and the sun shines bright! We'll see it all then, see it all as clearly as God sees us, knowing him directly just as he knows us!" 1 Corinthians 13:12 (The Message)

My salvation came at twenty-three with so many 'behind the scenes' that prepared me for my life today! As a teenager, I worked on a farm — that instilled in me a good work ethic. As a wife, mother and grandmother — I know how to multitask, keep a good house, and "Train up a Child"! In my adult jobs, I worked as a caterer, and there were always "Pot Luck" Dinners to organize!

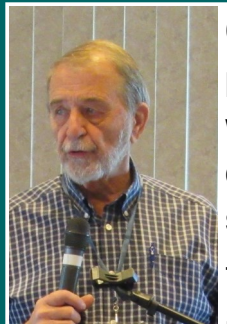

I became a Teacher/Preschool Director, learned patience, wisdom and also learned to speak in front of people. I also entered full-time ministry with my husband. You just do it all!

When my husband died, I was and still am a licensed insurance agent, mostly retired!

I can see now how all my different jobs and "behind the scenes" training helped to prepare me for what I do now! I am, with a team of like-minded facilitators, helping others through the grieving process as the Lead Facilitator for my Church's GriefShare ministry.

God has used all my "skills" to prepare me to be the person I am today. He knew every "talent" I would need to fulfill His call on my life. Thank You for who You have made me to be, Lord! I am a daughter of the King! I Praise You for my life and I am excited for the next "scene" You have planned for me.

Retreats ~ "Behind the Scenes" ~ Otto Wegner

Otto Wegner shares, "Retreats are Breathers," times to relax and rest, to review and renew. Retreat participants are reluctant participants of "More Than Conquerors." We'd rather have our spouses still with us. In reality, our companions have moved to their best and eternal address. The ensuing realities of life for MTC members: loneliness, uncertainty, ill-defined expectations...the list is endless, zaps strength and calls for a new perspective for moving forward.

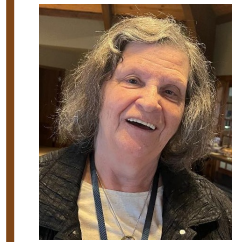

The best part of retreats is that they are designed to be as brief as possible, interlude to routines, and refresh and redefine strategies for what is next. The enthusiasm for the next steps, an eager look to the future, and a resolve to continue on the mission are needed and to be expected on retreats. Military leaders know their troops must get a "new grip" on their mission. I am looking forward to regrouping, refreshing times in worship and prayer, and sharing life and hopes for the mission. We have a future. How Christian leaders demonstrate their trust in Jesus, deal with new realities, and apply themselves to the unfinished mission is part of our legacy for generations to come. Retreat, briefly! Retreat, with purpose! Retreat, and go forward!

"So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen, since what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal." 2 Corinthians 4:18

Robert Lyle celebrated his 88th birthday with his three preacher daughters, (L-R) Melissa, Karen and Rachel. He started going to the senior center a couple of times a week and enjoys visiting with others.

Donna Noll spent Christmas with her brother and sister in New York. They had a wonderful visit!

Liz Ferguson shared that God has led her to a Baptist church where she serves on the Sunday morning worship team and leads Sunday night worship every other week. She is also teaching a ladies Bible study. Just recently, she started a job at the local library. She said, "I just want to be where people need Jesus!"

Carol Kurka was asked to speak on December 13 as their church celebrated paying off the debt to the ministry center. She shared, "It was my husband's vision to build the ministry center and now we rejoice it's all paid for!"

Jerry Olshevski spent Thanksgiving with his son, Scott, and his family, in Texas. He spent Christmas with his daughter, Jodi, and her family, in California.

Karen Loose had a wonderful time at Christmas with her granddaughters, Abigail, and Caroline in Indianapolis.

My "Behind the Scenes" Story ~ Tom Budzowski

Sometimes, as we look in the rear-view mirror of our past, we see more of the "unseen hand of God" and His provisions for us along the journey of ministry. Those provisions are seen with an even greater appreciation and gratitude. Throughout the many years of bi-vocational pastoring with a family of seven, God had provided many commodities, which included housing, groceries, and monetary gifts. But there was one area of extreme provision that I will never forget. That provision was all the good and reliable vehicles gifted to us while in the Pastoral Ministry, thirteen in all!

Gifted to us from relatives, church folks, and acquaintances. Every kind of vehicle, from a 73' Ford Pinto Station Wagon to a 90's Nissan Pathfinder and, various makes and models in between. God can be seen as our Divine Provider in that none of these gifted vehicles were begged for, asked for, hoped for, or in many cases, even prayed for! God just spoke to people's hearts and He provided each and every one of them. Some were used as a secondary vehicle or as our only vehicle and some for work transportation. But none the less, God provided every one of them.

I'm reminded of a verse in Psalms 68:19 where we are reminded to Bless the Lord, who daily loads us with His benefits, the God of our Salvation. Also, in Matthew 6:33, where Jesus reminds us that our Heavenly Father knows that we need all these things and admonishes us to seek His Kingdom and His Righteousness first and all these things shall be added to you. He truly was, is and will always be Jehovah-Jireh (Our Provider) in every stage of life and ministry.

My "Behind the Scenes" Story ~ Arline Grabill

In early 2018, I had a strong sense my life was about to change.

Not long after I went to Delaware, where I grew up, to help my brothers take care of my dad, who was ready to join heaven's saints. At one point, Dad told me that he and my brothers had decided I should move home to Delaware and purchase my parent's townhouse. I thanked him, but had no intention of leaving Pennsylvania, which was home to my family and held so many precious memories. One day, I was sitting in my parents living room, and the thought came to my mind, "What would I do differently if this was MY home?" From there, everything seemed to go very quickly.

I asked the Lord for two things: 1) Get a fair price for my house in PA; 2) that the move would come together quickly. I knew if it wasn't quick, I would chicken out. Well, my house sold in two days, and the buyer wanted me out in two weeks! Dad went to heaven, and I came home.

As I look back and see the Lord's incredible hand throughout – from the way my family and local church cared for me to my move home - there were so many moments when the Lord provided "behind the scenes."

Today, I am often helping neighbors, my oldest son and his family are close by. I am enjoying catching up with my brothers and getting reacquainted with my school classmates.

My "Behind the Scenes" Story ~ Nilli Oliver

Back in the 90's, God called my husband and I to Philadelphia to oversee what seemed to me an unconventional multi-cultural, multi-ethnic group of churches born out of a Christian-owned company. After several years and many wonderful learning experiences with these congregations, God again spoke to us to plant a church in the Spanish area of Kensington.

Are you aware that God strategically places people in our lives? After a few years of using company chapels, we needed our own space. One of my coworkers, a Pastor's wife, mentioned that her husband was resigning from his pastorate and was selling the church building, which was right in the middle of the neighborhood where we were looking to plant a church.

After negotiating with the pastor, an amount was agreed upon, and a purchase date was set. However, we didn't have anywhere near the amount needed. One night I was awakened in the early morning hours with the command to write a letter to friends and family. After wrestling with God for a couple of hours because I HATE to ask people for money, God won.

As the weeks went by, mail started arriving with checks in various amounts. The night before closing, we were $5,000 short of what we needed. I asked my husband what were we going to do. His annoying reply was "That's God's problem, I'm going to sleep." The next day closing was set for 3 PM. During breakfast the phone rang, and the secretary of a Christian-owned foundation said that a check in the amount of $5,000 was ready for pickup.

Many years have passed, my honey has been relocated to heaven, and the church is thriving and remains debt-free. Lessons learned in this journey: God is always working behind the scenes; He has strategically placed me where I am and He also strategically places people and opportunities in our path to accomplish His will. People want to help expand the Kingdom of God, we just need to ask for their help. Many times He takes us out of our "comfort zone" but if we allow Him, it helps us to grow and brings Him glory.

Home With Jesus!
